

INDIGENOUS CERTIFICATION BOARD OF CANADA

APPLICATION FOR CERTIFICATION EQUIVALENCE

New Applicant

The Indigenous Certification Board of Canada honors the certifications obtained from other certification boards, and grants, on request, the same type and level of certification, provided the documents listed in this application form are submitted to ICBOC. Applicants for an ICBOC equivalent certification must be in possession of a certification in good standing with the Certification Board with whom they are certified, at the date of their application with ICBOC.

Renewing your equivalent certification

- Applicants who have already obtained a certification equivalence with ICBOC and who wish to renew this certification after two years, must complete the Application for Equivalent Recertification and submit the required documents. This form is available on the ICBOC website or is available on request.

Upgrading your equivalent certification

- To apply for a certification upgrade, professionals who have been originally certified through ICBOC's certification equivalence process must first apply and qualify for their recertification, and also submit a complete application for the level of certification requested.
